Book Title: Little Polar Bear and the Brave Little Hare

This story is about a little polar bear, Lars and a brave little hare, Hugo. They met one day and became good friends. One day, Lars brought Hugo to a polar station. Lars thought it was safe. Lars wanted to get food for them. They got it then the problem came. Lars fell into a room in the polar station! Lars was very scared. Soon, the manager of the polar station came. Luckily, Hugo saved Lars cleverly. They became best friends. I like this story because they became good friends because of saving and be saved. I learned that good friends will help each other no matter what. I will help my friends or help people who we don't know to make new friends. I will not be selfish just for helping people.
