A. Choose a character from the book. Finish the following character frame.
 (6-colour thinking skill: e.g. white – facts)

For Halloween, they always dressed as things that went together.
Did the same things with his best friend Wilson anyway, that's why they were best friends.
Silly, Wilson, Chester did the same things anyway.
They did everything together.

Lilly moved into the neighborhood.
She had her own way of doing things.
She definitely had a mind of her own.
Chester and Wilson always avoided her.
One day while they were practicing their hand signals, some older boys were popping wheels, they yelled at Chester and Wilson. Suddenly a fierce - looking cat with horrible fangs jumped out and frightened the older boys away.
Finally, Lilly, Chester and Wilson became best friends.

B. Write three or four paragraphs about the character by using the character frame. (6-colour thinking skill: at least 4 colours – white, red, yellow, blue)

Chester is one of the characters in the book called Chester's way.

He/ She was brave all the time and nice. He was a lovely mouse and smiled. He lived with his father and mother.

He liked to help his best friend-Wilson. He did everything the same as Wilson, that's why they were best friends.

Last year, Lily moved into the neighborhood. She had her own way of doing things. She definitely had a mind of her own. Chester and Wilson always avoided to meet her.

One day while they were practising their hand signals, some older boys were popping wheels. They yelled at Chester and Wilson, Suddenly a fierce - looking cat with horrible fangs jumped out and frightened the older boys away. Finally, Lilly, Chester and Wilson became best friends.

I like/ do not like Lilly the best because although at first Chester and Wilson avoided to meet her, she was still kind to them.

From this story, I have learnt we cannot dislike the others no matter he or she are boys or girls.

I will care about my friends' feeling, I promise! And I will not make my friends feel sad. I want to cheer them up.
