Mark and the monster

Everyone in the village thought Mark was as strong as an ox and brave like a lion. He could lift up a tree, a huge stone and even a lion. So he was the most famous man in the village.

One day, there was a monster who was bored so he wanted to play with the villagers. However, the villagers were too afraid of the monster even the monster just wanted to chat and play with them. All villagers ran away. Nobody would stay in the street. After a while, the monster was disappointed about the villagers' reactions so he went back to his cave. On the other hand, a villager found Mark to catch and kill the monster. Mark thought it was easy to do so he promised the villager.

The next day, Mark went to the cave where the monster lived and the monster was sleeping. Mark shouted, "Get out and fight with me!" The monster was very angry to meet Mark. Mark was very scared because the monster was stronger than Mark expected. Mark's legs were shaking so he passed. However, the monster was so moved because Mark was the only one who stayed there and didn't kill him. The monster didn't want to hurt Mark. Then the monster told Mark what he was thinking.

After that, Mark brought the monster to the village and asked the villagers to live with the monster. After a few days, the villagers thought the monster was kind and friendly so they tried to play with the monster. Finally, all of the villagers were not scared of the monster and some even liked to play with him.
