My Lovely Rabbit

I love my lovely rabbit, her name is Lisa. And I love her, no matter what.

Last Sunday was my birthday. In that morning, I was sitting on the couch and watching comics, my dad suddenly called me to the backyard. I was really curious, but when I got there, I saw a big present. When my dad opened it, and said, "Surprise!" Then I saw a little lovely bunny. I was so excited and wanted to scream. I realized it would wake my neighbours up, so I went silent, but with a happy smile on my face.

So in the last few days, I fed Lisa with healthy food, clear water and some carrots, and she loved it! After she ate her food, she would just run around in circles in the living room. I thought she was the most adorable thing in the world!

Then this Friday, my friend, Judy invited me to her picnic, and I decided to bring Lisa along. When we got there, I placed Lisa down and sat down with Judy. I was too busy talking to Judy, so I didn't pay attention to Lisa. But then I heard a barking noise. I turned around and saw Lisa was in trouble! There was a mean dog barking at her, so I jumped out and saved her. I was mad at the dog and talked to his master. His master quickly apologized to me and yelled at his dog. I kind of felt bad.

But after all I've done, I love my pet, Lisa.
