

If I need to live on an island by myself, I will bring three things with me. They are a knife, a water bottle and an axe.

First, I will bring a knife because then I can kill some animals and get some meat for food.

Second, I will bring a water bottle with me because I can get some water when it is raining.

Third, I will bring an axe because I can chop some trees down and build a wooden house for myself.

I will first build a house. Then I will make a fishing rod to go fishing. After that, I will make some toys. At last, I will make a pickaxe and mine some stones and make a better house with those stones.

If I really have to live on an island by myself, I will feel bored because there isn't anyone to play with me.