A day out with my family

The weather was sunny and hot. “Shall we go to the country park and have a barbecue?” Dad suggested. “Why not?” said mom and I. Then, we went there.

There were a lot of monkeys looking at us. I said, “Wow! We’ve bought a lot of food. There is beef, sausages, bananas.....Wait, bananas! The monkeys are going to steal them!” Dad and Mum shouted, “Oh no!”

What I had said just happened. The monkeys sprinted past us and stole our bananas. Then mom went to the centre and asked people to help.

The people found out that the monkeys were from the zoo. They escaped out of the zoo a few days ago. They tried to catch the monkeys but it took a long time. They caught them and put them back into a cage. We were excited to see them in the zoo. The monkeys gave the bananas back to us. We ate them and went home happily.
