

Geronimo Hilton

Geornimo Stilton is one of the characters in the book called “Four Mice deep in the Jungle.”

He was as timid as an ostrich in the beginning. He was afraid of everything such as going outside, eating ice-cream, telephone ring etc.

One day, his relatives let him join a mysterious class. He felt angry when he signed the paper of some unfair rules about the class. In the class, his teammates and he faced a lot of difficulties and fears but they never gave up. They went to some soil ponds, dirty wells... He even let a spider stand on his nose! In the trip, he made a lot of new friends and he knew how to survive in the Amazon Jungle. At last he became brave. He thanked his relatives and his teacher.

I like Geronimo Stilton because he was kind and helpful to others. I should overcome my difficulties by working hard like him. I also learnt to be kind to others and be polite to friends or teachers.
